Where does this leave us?

- Many more citizen controllers as self-tracking starts to look outwards.
- Individuals expected to follow rules made with orgs in mind (including security!).
- Increasingly tough Ryneš style questions about admissibility of evidence.
- BCIs designed for user interfaces might need careful Privacy-by-Design considerations. At the moment, the question rarely comes up in hospitals.
- Possibly the worst idea since the IoT.
